

Original Don Young patterns:

Patterns and other details

Given the large number of patterns available either in the various carving magazines, books, and online, it would be difficult to provide a single one that would be of the type "One size fits all". (Copyright issues would also come into play for us to post some here...)

We are hesitant to provide too many dimensions as many would find these restrictive; if your carving looks ok, then it's ok!

As with all entries in our Show and Competition, all carvings must be signed in a place where the name is not obvious, but can identify the carvers (ie. under the base). This helps us hand back the carvings to their owners.
